RESERVE CHAMPION LAMB — Mary Kay Wilson had the reserve grand champion market lamb during Friday's Sale of Champions at the Ohio State Fair. It was a 109-pound Hampshire and sold for $12 per pound. The reserve grand champion market lamb was purchased by the All Ohio Youth Choir.

County livestock owners command whopping prices

"It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience," commented an elated Jack Sommers, Fayette County 4-H Extension Agent.

The comment by Sommers just about described what took place when Fayette Countians walked off with top honors during the Sale of Champions Friday afternoon at the 1974 Ohio State Fair in Columbus.

RECORD PRICES were commanded by three Fayette County youngsters for their entries in the Junior Fair market barrow and market lamb sales. The result was a staggering $10,208 total for the three animals.

Rusty Coe, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, sold his grand champion market barrow for a whopping total of $26 per pound or $5,720 to Bob Evans Farms.

The Chester White barrow sold by the 14-year-old Coe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Coe, weighed 220 pounds.

Coe is a member of the Ambitious Farmers 4-H Club. The advisors are Clark Coe, Ernest Jenks, John Ervin, Dan Schlichter and Harold Anderson.

A new grand champion market lamb record was established when Jill Schlichter's 106-pound purebred Suffolk lamb sold for an impressive $30 per pound or $3,180.

Twelve-year-old Jill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schlichter, Prairie Road, sold her grand champion market lamb to Renzetti's IGA, of Columbus.

The previous record was $21 per pound and was set during last year's state fair.

Jill is also a member of the Ambitious Farmers 4-H Club.

The reserve grand champion market lamb was also a Fayette County entry.

The reserve champion was a

109-pound Hampshire owned by Mary Kay Wilson, 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Martha Wilson, of Milledgeville, and Maynard Wilson, of Washington C.H. Miss Wilson's lamb brought $12 per pound ($1,308) and was purchased by the All-Ohio Youth Choir. Miss Wilson is a member of the Jasper Top-Notchers 4-H Club.

The reserve grand champion barrow, a 205-pound crossbred owned by Deanne Smalley, Rt. 1, Leesburg, sold for $8 per pound or $1,640 to Renzetti's IGA, of Columbus.

Susan Wilson, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace K. Wilson, 530 Mayfair Drive, exhibited the reserve grand champion Angus steer during Friday's sale. She is a member of the We-Dood-It 4-H Club and the advisors are Sam Kemple and Jim McClure.

AS AN added bonus during Friday afternoon's sale, buyers of each animal, following the example of McDonald's vice president Frank Phalen, donated their purchases to Ohio's 4-H and the FFA Foundation.

Sommers noted that there were about 1,000 entries in the market lamb sale while a total of 325 barrows were shown for the barrow sale.

Rick Shepard, of Fayette County, exhibited the last sale champion nearly five years ago. Shepard sold the reserve champion barrow in the 1969 state fair, according to Sommers.

Nancy Campbell, also of Fayette County, had the champion barrow during the 1968 state fair, which was the first year for the Sale of Champions.

DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY — Lonnie D. Penrod, 24, of Jeffersonville, managed to escape injury Saturday morning after losing control of the auto above. He failed to negotiate a curve on U.S. 62-S, near Rowe Ging Road, and shattered a utility pole when he struck it broadside before ending up in a field. He then crawled out from under the car, which was flat on its top, and assured Sheriff's Deputy Robert Russell he was all right. The above photo was taken as a wrecker was attempting to turn the demolished vehicle back on its wheels.

Driver miraculously escapes injury in single-car mishap

A Jeffersonville man miraculously walked away from his demolished automobile Saturday morning after the vehicle had traveled some 200 feet along the berm of U.S. 62-S, smashed broadside into a utility pole and crashed to the ground upside down. Lonnie D. Penrod, 24, managed to crawl out from under the wreckage in time to greet the driver of an arriving ambulance and turn down a ride to the hospital. Although Penrod complained of bruises and soreness, there was no visible injury and no indication of any internal injuries.

The mishap occurred at 3 a.m. as Penrod was northbound on U.S. 62 near Rowe Ging Road. He lost control of the vehicle on a curve before going off the roadway and shattering the utility pole.

The pole was sheared off at ground level and parts of the pole were found more than 75 feet from the accident site.

After assuring Sheriff's Deputy Robert Russell that he was not injured, Penrod joined the officer in the cruiser where he provided information for the accident report and was issued a citation for reckless operation.

Five other accidents were reported Friday and Saturday.

POLICE

SATURDAY, 6:05 a.m. — Lonnie L. Ayers, 31, Rt. 5, Washington C.H., was cited for failure to yield when he pulled from a stop sign on West Road at the CCC Highway in front of a vehicle driven by Chester R. Griffith, 36, of Gahanna. Minor damage resulted.

FRIDAY, 10:40 p.m. — Allen R. Binegar, Rt. 2, Washington C.H., was cited for failing to yield when he turned left from Washington Avenue onto Elm Street in front of a car driven by John F. Morris, 35, of 793 McLean St. (Please turn to page 2)

Increases in food prices worse, ag economists say

WASHINGTON (AP) — A load of groceries that cost $17.24 two years ago probably will cost $23 or more by the end of the year, Agriculture Department economists are saying.

By last month, one index showed, the hypothetical batch of groceries already cost $22.58.

That unpleasant note for food-buyers came on Friday when official predictions of the final 1974 average food prices were revised upward, to about 15 per cent above the 1973 average.

Last year's increase in the retail average, the highest since World War II, was 14.5 per cent.

For the last nine months, the department had been predicting a 1974 rise of "probably 12 per cent" in the average, with most of the boost coming before June.

Friday's new analysis by the Outlook and Situation Board, based on mid-August supply, demand and price assessments, gave a range of 13 to 17 per cent for the year.

The report said that instead of remaining steady during the third quarter and declining slightly in the fall, prices for major farm goods hit by unfavorable weather over much of the nation "are now expected to rise about 3 per cent during the third quarter and a little more in the fourth quarter."

The key to the range is the weather, from the heavy spring rains to the Midwest's midsummer drought.

The retail price hikes will be closer to 17 per cent if crop production falls much more or if demand from consumers, livestock feeders or exporters increases.

The department also released Friday its July figures for the Economic Research Service marketbasket survey, showing the first rise in prices paid to farmers and the first drop in retailers' and wholesalers' share of the grocery shopper's dollar since February.

It worked out to a 0.3 per cent decline in July in the retail value of a year's marketbasket of 61 U.S. farm-produced foods bought by a hypothetical urban wage-earning family of 3.2 persons.

The new annual cost of $1,726 for that marketbasket still was 12.9 per cent higher than midsummer 1973.

The farmers' share was 2.6 per cent below a year ago and 3.8 per cent more than in June.

The share representing the costs and profits of processors, wholesalers and retailers fell 3 per cent from June's marketbasket but still was 26.7 per cent larger than July 1973 and 1.7 per cent above March.

Presidency still dangles for Rocky

SEAL HARBOR, Maine (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller refuses to concede that his acceptance of the vice presidential nomination at age 66 has ended his long quest for the presidency, citing world leaders who governed in their 70s and 80s.

But President Ford's vice presidential nominee told the second of two news conferences at his summer home here on Friday that political speculation about 1976 and 1980 is "totally irrelevant" in view of the tremendous problems facing the nation.

When a reporter asked if he thought he would be too old to run for president at age 72 in 1980, when Ford would be ineligible, Rockefeller replied, "Did you ever know Golda Meir? Konrad Adenauer? I knew them well. Great people."

Mrs. Meir resigned last year as Israeli premier at the age of 75, while Adenauer was West German chancellor into his 80s.

Rockefeller's aides have said he would not challenge Ford in 1976.

The oldest man elected president was William Henry Harrison, who took office at age 68 in 1841 and died a month later. Dwight D. Eisenhower was the oldest to serve in the office, leaving at age 70.

The vice presidential nominee became the highest ranking national figure to support the idea that Richard M. Nixon should not be prosecuted on charges growing out of the scandals that forced his resignation from the presidency.

Pet ambulance keeps busy with trips to vet clinics

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Blake and Connie Riscoe's aging red ambulance bristles with splints, bandages, sedatives and poison antidotes, but they're not for human patients.

The Riscoes operate one of the nation's few fulltime pet ambulances, and whisk their injured clients to veterinary clinics instead of to hospitals.

It started on a shoestring and still runs that way, but the Riscoes, who are in their 20s, say business is picking up.

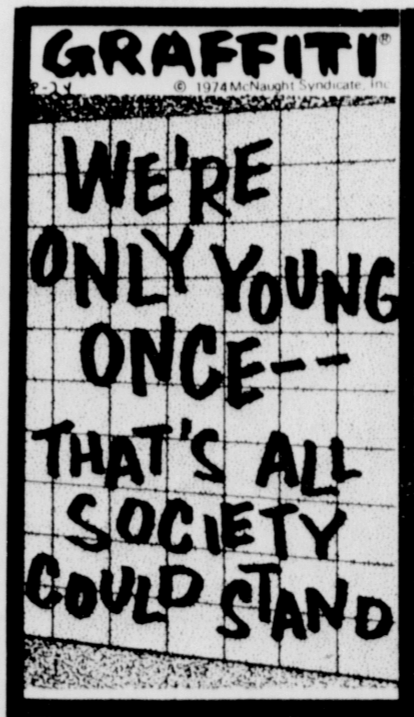

"We're getting four or five calls a week," Riscoe said, adding that most of their cases have been poisonings or dogs hit by automobiles.

"But dogs and cats suffer many of the same types of ailments as people," he said. "We have handled heart attack victims, and also rushed a few stroke patients to the pet hospitals. And we have had some dog fight victims."

The Riscoes bought their 1962 red ambulance from a used car dealer six weeks ago and are on call 24 hours a day out of their home in northeast Portland.

They charge $15 a run, plus 40 cents a mile. Charges for oxygen and other materials are extra.

School dress code upheld in court

HILLSBORO — The right of school authorities to enforce reasonable dress codes was upheld this week by Judge Darrell R. Hottle, of Highland County Common Pleas Court.

The decision was given in the case of Robert Henry, a minor, Rt. 2, Leesburg, by his father, Harold Henry, against the Lynchburg-Clay District Board of Education, and E. Gene Cook, high school principal at the time. The original complaint charged that during the 1973-74 school year, the youth was suspended twice because of the length of his hair and the board and principal threatened to expel him if he did not cut his hair.

business teacher at St. Mary's College, a West Indies Jesuit Mission School. "We have had an average enrollment of 100 almost every year," Mrs. Mahaffey said. Although she has "retired" Mrs. Mahaffey has made a few plans for her return next year. She indicated she made do parttime work at home.

Four newspapers warned on lottery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The postmaster at Bremen, Ohio, said Friday he has reported to postal authorities four Ohio newspapers he said violated rules by publishing lottery promotions in mail editions.

Postmaster John Mericle named the newspapers as the Columbus Citizen-Journal, Columbus Evening Dispatch, the Lancaster Eagle-Gazette and the Logan Daily News. He said copies of all four newspapers went through the Bremen post office.

The Columbus newspapers were contacted by a postal service spokesman Thursday. Both newspapers withheld from Friday's mail editions advertisements on the lottery and winning numbers from Thursday's first drawing in the Ohio lottery. The advertisements and numbers were in nonmail editions.

A spot check of a number of newspapers indicated others had not been contacted on the matter. The Middletown Journal kept lottery promotional material out of mail editions and printed it in local editions.

Brady Black, editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, said his newspaper withheld lottery promotion material from Kentucky and Indiana editions because of state restrictions in those states against such matter.

Richard E. Foreman, general manager of the Eagle-Gazette, said he had not been contacted by postal authorities on the matter. Jim Myers, editor of the Daily News, said he had received no word on the matter. Both newspapers published the winning lottery numbers in Thursday's editions.

Paul Hess, manager of mailing requirements in the Columbus post office, said he called the Dispatch circulation department after receiving a memorandum on the matter from Mericle. He said he cited federal postal rules against lottery promotions being sent through the mail.

Robert B. Smith, managing editor of

The Dispatch, and Charles Egger, editor of the Citizen Journal, said lottery advertisements would be withheld from mail editions of both newspapers.

The Zanesville Times Recorder carried a notice that it was barred by the postal service from publishing winning lottery numbers in mail editions.

Ralph Haffenden, Columbus postmaster, said he wrote post offices in a 13-county central Ohio area about procedures to follow on lottery inquiries.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Ella P. Clouser

Mrs. Ella P. Clouser, 88, formerly of 324 Highland Ave., died at 6 p.m. Friday in the Margaret Clark Oakfield Convalescent Center where she had been a patient the past six years.

Born in Ross County, Mrs. Clouser had spent most of her life in Washington C.H. and was a member of the First Christian Church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Caroline Miller, Show Low, Ariz., and a sister, Mrs. Ola Bush, Quiet Acres Nursing Home.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, Washington C.H., with the Rev. Ray Russell officiating. Cremation will follow the services and burial of the ashes will be in Washington Cemetery at a later date.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 3 to 5 and 7 until 9 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Kenneth Warner

BELLEFONTAINE — Services for Mrs. Kenneth (Martha Ellen) Warner, 52, Rt. 1, Bellefontaine, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Eichholtz Funeral Home in Bellefontaine. Mrs. Warner died following an extended illness at 3:12 a.m. Saturday in Mary Rutan Hospital in Bellefontaine.

Born in Bloomingburg on October 5, 1921, she was the daughter of the late Clarence Sheeley and Vern Elliott.

She married Kenneth Warner, who survives, on October 5, 1945. Also surviving are a son, Douglas A., at home; and a daughter, Mrs. James (Becky) Charles of Bellefontaine. She also has one granddaughter.

Mrs. Warner was a registered nurse and a former lieutenant in the armed services during World War II. She was a member of Bloomingburg United Methodist Church.

Burial in Highland Memory Gardens, near Bellefontaine, will follow funeral services. Rev. Paul Bauders will be officiating. Calling hours at Eichholtz Funeral Home will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 until 9 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Charles C. Funk

Memorial services for Mrs. Belle M. Funk, 60, wife of Charles C. Funk, 50 Joanne Drive, Fayette County sanitarian, will be held at 1 p.m. Monday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with the Rev. Keith Woolley officiating.

Mrs. Funk died Wednesday in Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Burial of the remains will be in Good Hope Cemetery.

JAMES E. HARTLEY — Services for James E. Hartley, 77, of 932 Lakeview Ave., were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with the Rev. Allen Puffenberger officiating. Mr. Hartley, a retired county highway department employee, died Tuesday.

Pallbearers for the burial in Highlawn Memory Gardens were Jimmy E. Fletcher, Wayne Baird, Herb Iles, Gib Bireley, Hubert Ferneau and Howard Wilt.

BRENDA K. BENNETT Services for Brenda Kay Bennett, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett, of Sabina, were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Parrett Funeral Home with the Rev. Terry Parnell, pastor of the Sabina Baptist Church, officiating. Miss Bennett, a fifth grader at Sabina Elementary School, was killed Tuesday when the bicycle she was riding collided with a pickup truck at the intersection of Ohio 72 and Polk Road, near Sabina.

Mrs. Jean Collins sang two hymns and was accompanied by Mrs. Inez Norvell at the piano. Pallbearers for the burial in Washington Cemetery were Michael Bosier, Jay Laycock, Paul Whittington Jr. and Jerry Hampton.

Tigers to be displayed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The rare white tiger cubs born June 20 will go on display at the Cincinnati Zoo beginning Aug. 27 twice daily for one week, zoo officials said.

Greece rejects further talks

By The Associated Press

Greece has rejected further talks with Turkey and Britain about Cyprus, and the Greek Cypriot president has warned of guerrilla warfare against the Turkish invasion forces.

Greek Foreign Minister George Mavros said he is notifying the British ambassador to Athens today that Greece will not attend any further three-power talks in Geneva.

Rather, Mavros said, Greece will back a Soviet proposal that the question of Cyprus go before an 18-nation conference — the 15 members of the United Nations Security Council plus Greece, Turkey and the Cypriot government.

There has been no Turkish reaction to the proposal Moscow made Thursday and Soviet U.N. Ambassador Jacob Malik backed up Friday by consulting in New York with other Security Council members.

Western diplomats at U.N. headquarters generally dismissed it as a propaganda ploy, and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Washington is studying the plan.

Mavros rejected a return to Geneva on Friday after conferring with Greek Premier Constantine Caramanlis, Defense Minister Evangelos Averoff-Tositas and Cypriot President Glafcos Clerides.

"There's no point going to Geneva merely to sign what has been taken by force," Clerides said after the meeting in Athens.

Peace talks in Geneva among the Greek, Turkish and British foreign ministers broke down Aug. 13. Turkish forces immediately launched a lightning attack from their invasion beachhead and within days controlled the northern 40 per cent of the island.

U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim said over Austrian radio Friday that the collapse of Greek-Turkish efforts to settle the Cyprus crisis meant the U.N. would become "actively involved." He did not pass judgment on the feasibility of the Soviet proposal, saying "everything is open."

Waldheim arrives in Cyprus today for meetings with Clerides and Turkish Cypriot leader Rauf Denktaş.

Meanwhile, the lot of Greek Cypriot refugees on Cyprus deteriorated as food reserves dwindled in the Greek-controlled zone.

Senior U.N. officers also reported that Turkish troops were using increased pressure to force U.N. troops out of northern Cyprus. They said some Turks had threatened U.N. soldiers with guns and tanks.

The 4,600 U.N. peacekeeping troops on Cyprus are supposed to prevent cease-fire violations, help in prisoner exchanges and man relief efforts for about 150,000 persons displaced by the war.

Fort Wayne crash fatal

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Franklin R. Mayberry, 48, Rt. 2, Bluffton, Ohio, was killed today in a two-car collision on U.S. 24 here, state police said.

Ronald L. Adreon, 31, Woodburn, Ind., driver of the second car, was hospitalized in critical condition, investigators said.

See need for bigger farm profits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Farmers must get 3 per cent more for their hogs and cattle to prevent a food shortage, but the increase should not affect the consumer, says National Farmers Organization President Oren Staley.

The NFO president said Wednesday he's making a 17-day national tour to rally farmers in support of the increase needed to meet rising production costs and equalize their position in the economy.

"We can't expect food prices to remain stable when everything else is going up," Staley said at a press conference here.

He pointed out that bail wire, for example, which cost the farmer $13 last year costs him $30-$40 today.

Staley said farmers need the 30 per cent increase to maintain the high level of production necessary to feed the country.

But, he said, the increase should not be passed to the consumer.

"If the prices do go up to the consumer, it will be the buyers and retailers making the ultimate profit," Staley said.

He explained that last year consumers felt the increase in meat prices when farmers got more money for their hogs.

"We were getting 50 cents a pound for hogs then and the consumers paid for it," he said.

"But since then our prices dropped. Earlier this year farmers were only getting 25 cents to 30 cents a pound for hogs, but the consumer didn't see the decrease in the retail market. He was still paying the same high price."

Staley said today most farmers are getting about 37 cents a pound for pork, but the consumers are paying what they did when the farmer was getting 50 cents.

Theoretically, if the farmer gets his 50 cents again, the retail market price should remain stable, Staley said.

"Historically, though, it shows retailers will raise the price to the consumer and blame it on the farmer," he predicted.

Staley said he feels the consumer is becoming more sympathetic with the farmer.

"They know what we're up against, everything is raising, look at the price of automobiles," he said. "When it gets to the point that the U.S. farmer can't afford to feed the country, we're all in trouble."

Staley said his biggest problem is getting the farmer to realize "that you can't compete as individuals in an economy where everything is based on organization."

Columbus was the third stop for the NFO president who plans to visit 35 farming centers during the 17-day tour.

"I'm telling the farmers that they can't compete in today's economy unorganized, and that they must get organized nationwide since the retail industry they're dealing with is nationwide."

"I don't know how fast the farmers are going to react," Staley said. He added that so far he has had favorable reactions to his organization's push for a 30 per cent increase.

"I have had favorable response," he said, "but results talk."

Down On The Farm

Saturday, August 24, 1974

Washington C. H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 3

Cattle lots show decline in feeding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Feedlot statistics for July illustrate the massive cutbacks in grainfed beef production and also indicate some operators may wish they had trimmed inventories even further.

As of Aug. 1, says the Agriculture Department, the cattle feedlot inventory is seven major beef-producing states was 7,007,000 head. That was down 23 per cent from Aug. 1 last year.

But the report, published at mid-week, also said 1,212,000 new cattle were replaced in feeding pens during July, up 7 per cent from July 1973.

The main reason, of course, was that many feedlots had been cleaned out of cattle during previous months when low market prices and high feed prices combined to bring widespread losses to the industry. In May, for example, placements were down 39 per cent from a year earlier and in June they were down 49 per cent.

Market prices of cattle for slaughter improved in July, averaging $41.81 per hundredweight for steers at midwest markets, up $5.52 from June. That rise, coupled with sharply lower prices for feeder stock needed to rebuild inventories, evidently was enough to encourage many operators to restock pens.

Prices of choice feeder cattle in the 600- to 700-pound range have dropped precipitously from peaks of near $70 a year ago to half that record level. And USDA experts say they think those will continue low for the remainder of 1974.

Thus, with lower feeder cattle costs and some rise in the slaughter market, the July placements showed some operators thought they could make a profit over the next few months.

But meantime, since drought became more severe in the Midwest, the corn crop has been trimmed far below earlier expectations and feed prices have risen again.

...the price they'll bring at market time!

At Heinold Hog Market you can sell your finished hogs the day they are farrowed—or anytime during the feeding period—under Heinold's Guaranteed Hog Price Program.

When you sell your hogs for future delivery under the guaranteed price program, you are establishing in advance the price they will bring at marketing time. You will receive that price—no more, no less—no matter what the cash market is the day you deliver your hogs. You need only fulfill the delivery terms of your contract with Heinold.

With the cash hog market during the remaining months of this year shrouded in uncertainty, it's just good business to check Heinold's guaranteed hog price for September, October and November NOW. # Beef outlook topic for Sept. 4 meeting

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent, Agric.

The economic outlook in the Beef Cattle Industry will be the topic of a September 4 meeting to be hosted by the Fayette County Extension Service and the Fayette County Cattle Feeders Association. The meeting will get underway at 6:30 p.m. with a charcoal broiled steak dinner followed by a program at approximately 8 p.m. Reservations for the steak dinner are needed by Wednesday, August 28. Cost is $5 per person.

Dr. Wally Barr, Extension economist, OSU, and John Bricker, Cattle Department, Producers Livestock Association, will be on hand to discuss the economic situation of the beef industry for the remainder of 1974 and early 1975. Barr and Bricker will discuss the feeder cattle supply and price situation, the cattle price forecasts, and the feed supply and price situation.

All cattlefeeders, beef cow-calf producers, and related industry businessmen in Fayette and surrounding counties are encouraged to participate in the beef outlook meeting.

Reservations can be made by calling the Extension Office, 335-1150.

THE ANNUAL Pork Producers picnic for those who worked in the Pork Concession Stand at the Fayette County Fair is set for Thursday evening, August 29 at the Fairgrounds. All directors of the Pork Producers Association and Pork Producers who assisted with the Pork Concession Stand are encouraged to bring their families and a covered dish and enjoy the evening. Martin Smith, chairman of the Pork Stand Committee, will be giving a report on this year's fund raiser. We haven't heard the final report as yet, but understand the Pork Producers sold well over a ton of pork at the fair again this year.

Cattle price rise helps producers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher market prices for grain-fed cattle recently have helped producers reduce losses from the $100 or more per head paid last winter, but government experts say they still are a long way from being out of the woods.

The main reason: A report on Aug. 12 by the Agriculture Department that the 1974 corn crop will be sharply less than counted on earlier this year. That means livestock feed prices will continue high through next winter at least.

It also means, according to USDA economists, that farmers and feedlot operators will think twice about restocking pens and that an increasing proportion of the nation's beef will come from nonfed cattle, animals grazed on pastures or fed less grain.

George Hoffman, a USDA livestock economist, said the lower-grade cattle — many of them cows culled from herds — are coming to market in larger numbers this summer and have accounted for a larger share of the total beef output.

In fact, Hoffman told a reporter Wednesday, total beef production by federally-inspected packing plants in July was up 16 per cent from a year earlier, according to preliminary figures. It also was up from June production, he said.

Meanwhile, production of feedlot cattle has gone into a tailspin in recent months because of the squeeze on profits resulting from low market prices for cattle in relation to feed costs.

A seven-state survey showed that July marketings of feedlot cattle dropped 10 per cent from a year earlier and that the total number of animals being fed for slaughter as of Aug. 1 in those states was down 23 per cent from the same date last year.

Even so, Hoffman said, there has been no shortage of choice-grade beef on store counters so far. One reason, he said, is the feedlot pipeline apparently has enough cattle in it to satisfy most consumer wants.

"We don't have a short supply of fed beef (from grain-fattened animals) yet," Hoffman said. "But by fall we expect fed beef supplies to begin dropping and probably be short of demand."

The summer drought, a main factor in a shortened corn crop this year, also has burned up many ranges and pastures.

Choosing a vice president

One interesting aspect of the changing of the guard is the fact that twice within less than a year a vice president will have been chosen by a mechanism which was not written into the Constitution until 1967. It is almost as though this procedure had been devised in anticipation of events which removed Spiro T. Agnew from the vice presidency and catapulted Gerald R. Ford into the White House.

The 25th Amendment, dealing with presidential disability and succession, was proposed by Congress in mid-1965; ratification was completed on Feb. 10, 1967. Section 2 consists of this simple sentence: "Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of the vice president, the president shall nominate a vice president who shall take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both houses of Congress."

Thus President Nixon was able, with congressional approval, to choose a new number two man when Agnew was forced from office in disgrace. Now, President Nixon having also been forced from office in disgrace, President Ford in turn is to choose a vice president for his administration.

We shall not speculate as to his possible choice. Many names have been proposed. Attempting to say which one Mr. Ford will settle on is guesswork.

One interesting question does merit comment. Will Mr. Ford's choice be subjected to anything like the intensive investigation he himself underwent before Congress gave him a clean bill of health?

We are inclined to think not. Some might argue that an inquiry into the vice president-designate's personal and political background would be especially appropriate now, since the choice will not have been subjected to the nation's electoral judgment. That is a point of some worth.

But the circumstances now are very different from those at the time of Agnew's resignation. His successor was designated by a president heavily under fire because of scandals in his administration; Congress felt constrained to make certain that no unpleasant surprises were buried in the record of the one chosen. In consequence, every aspect of Ford's life was subjected to painstaking scrutiny.

That scarcely seems necessary now, supposing the choice to be a man or woman who has served well and long in high public office. Should that be the case, as it almost certainly will be, something a good deal less than a full FBI investigation ought to suffice. The overriding concern of Congress should be to reach a fair judgment as to whether Mr. Ford's choice is well qualified, by virtue of character and experience, to serve as vice president and to step into the presidency should occasion arise.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . by Marquis Childs

Instant stereotype created

WASHINGTON — One temptation in having a new President who steps with a bang into the office is to create instant stereotypes. There he is, the honest guy from Michigan, cooking his own breakfast, swimming 18 laps in his pool, speaking to Congress in the simple idiom that Congress understands with a straightforward quality too long lacking in the chief executive.

Boxing in the man with these stereotypes, inevitable in our cult of personality, does less than justice to the President.

His background is more complicated than that. As one of his friends pointed out the other day, he is the only President in this century to earn an advanced degree from an Ivy League school.

In the top third of his class at Yale law school he was something of a swifter even though he devoted part of his time to coaching freshmen football.

policy initiatives of the Nixon administration.

Ford was a hard-liner from the start of his congressional career to his appointment as Vice President. As compiled by the Center of Defense Information, he voted with a few small exceptions for big military appropriations and for keeping the armed services at home and abroad at current strength.

From 1966 through 1973 he voted first to support President Johnson on the Vietnam war and then President Nixon.

In 1968 he voted for an additional $6 billion for the war, bringing the total Vietnam budget for fiscal 1968 to $26 billion. That was the highpoint of the Johnson escalation. After the shaky peace agreement in 1973, Ford's votes were consistent in military support of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

He was equally consistent in voting, with one exception — in 1963 — when he favored cutting $636 million from the defense department's $15.9 billion research and procurement allocation, to kill all efforts to pare military spending.

Out of his long experience on the armed services subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, which he shared with Melvin Laird, Ford could be counted on to carry the ball for the Pentagon. It was an invaluable service when he became minority leader.

That was the past. The President who spoke to the Congress was the bright hope of the future. With the enormous sense of relief that came with the change it was a speech that won almost universal approval.

BUT THAT record is being studied both at home and abroad for clues to what it may mean for the future. Will the stereotype of the hard-line Ford carry into the present, when so much turns on the chief executive's decisions?

Above all, the Soviets are pondering the answer to this question. Having given their assurance of continued cooperation, they are said to be uneasy over a possible return to an uninhibited nuclear arms race and the rigors of the cold war.

His speech gave only the most general perspective on future policy. The rhetoric was familiar — "A strong defense is the surest way to peace. Weakness invites war, as my generation knows from bitter experience."

For the incoming President, that may have been no more than obeisance from the new helmsman to the conventional wisdom of the patriot.

Today the slate is clean. Whatever the past may have shown, President Ford is free to write his own page. That is what millions of Americans hope, in the beginning, that he will do.

HE HELPED to get the Powers model agency started in New York as one of his extracurricular activities. When her professional dancing failed to meet the rent bill his wife-to-be went to work as a model for Powers.

This was a long way from Grand Rapids, yet he was never, in his approach to his future, far from that Midwestern background.

For the President himself, a greater hazard in the stereotype department is to be boxed in by his 25-year record in the Congress.

In this difficult moment of transition he needs all the flexibility, the calm, cool, dispassionate judgement not weighted by the past, if he is to follow through successfully on the foreign

Cattle producers seeking stability

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. farm policy and the hopes of most producers in American agriculture have been directed for almost two years to one principal goal: stability.

For the cattle industry, that has been especially true and especially important.

Meat represents a third or more of the average food budget and beef is a bellwether industry that influences the entire food chain dramatically.

Late this week, an analysis in the bimonthly situation report on U.S. livestock and meat indicates that stability may creep in — the weather willing — by the November 1976 elections. Maybe.

"During the last 18 months, the cattle industry has been buffeted by consumer boycotts, a ban on (the chemical fattener) DES, various phases and stages of price controls, skyrocketing feedgrain and protein prices, double-digit inflation and marginal growth in the general economy," the report from the Economic Research Service reads.

"Prospects for the next year or two are potentially even more disruptive," it adds, directly contrary to the official optimism that the end of price controls is allowing the farm market to adjust from 1973 distortions and stabilize.

First of all, the nation's inventory of cattle on the hoof has been building up rapidly for several years as a part of the recovery from the last meat depression 15 years ago.

At the same time, slaughter levels have been generally the same for a decade and now simply must rise to accommodate all that walking supply.

With normal weather, slaughter could go up 10 to 12 per cent next year, the analysis said. If it doesn't get wetter in the cattle states, the marketing is going to be disrupted with abnormal movements to slaughter or to greener pastures in other states.

The report mentions the current adjustments in the industry as the booming feedcattle facet of the 1960s goes into deceleration and lowgrade, grass-fed supplies expand.

The monkeywrench there is that cattle can't be fed grass if pastures are dry and can't be put on feed if the rancher can't afford to buy the grain, supplies of which are tight and prices consequently higher.

Pork, chicken and milk production are going to be pulled down also by small soybean and corn crops through 1976, the report states.

The prices moreover could break up the Corn Belt's pattern of joint grain-livestock operations and bring a "tilt" to intensified grain production until the price settles.

Bridge move set today

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ironworkers were expected to complete the move of the 3,000 ton superstructure of the new Interstate 471 bridge the remaining 20 feet to its adjacent pier today.

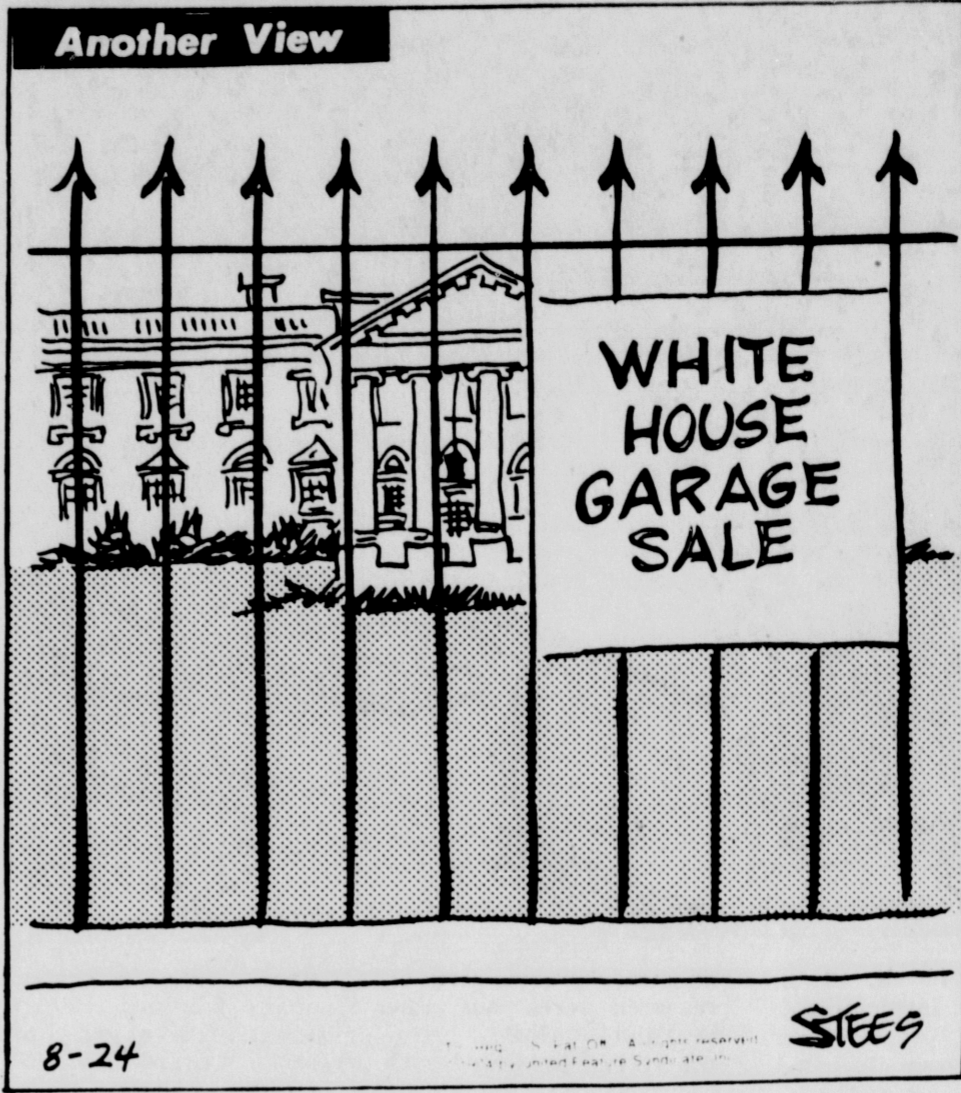

The Bristol Iron and Steel Workers, Bristol, Va., completed the first half of the $15 million project and began the 70-foot move Friday.

The bridge, which crosses the Ohio River between Cincinnati and Newport, Ky. is actually two bridges, officials said. One bridge will carry northbound traffic and the other southbound traffic. They rest on adjacent piers.

Bristol officials said the first half was completed on the downriver piers and moved to the upriver piers adjacent by jacks. Officials said.

Officials said this saved the expense of building construction platforms, at both pier sites.

Clock collectors find time ticking off dollar flood

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — This is a great time for clock collectors. They are ticking off the dollars.

Bernard J. Edwards, president of the Chicago chapter of the National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors, says clocks are a better investment nowadays than the hottest stocks.

But you've got to find the right ones.

"Several years ago you could buy old alarm clocks for 50 cents or $1 but now they are going for $15 to $20," says Edwards, whose travels in the outdoor advertising business give him occasional time for clock hunting in antique shops.

"Alarm clocks made from 1912 to the 1930s and early 1940s are coming up fast in the clock derby," said Edwards, a collector for 15 years. "Anyone who was in the service during World War II probably will remember the alarm clocks that had 'war alarm' printed on the face. There were millions of them, but most were lost or thrown away. They are worth $22 to $25 now."

Double-dial calendar clocks and railroad clocks are in demand now while a few years ago school clocks were a big thing, Edwards said. Before that, gingerbread mantel clocks were popular.

"Alarm clocks are the big comers," he said. "There are fashions and fads in clocks just as there are in other kinds of collecting."

Edwards's personal collection includes 100 clocks and 50 watches. His prize is an early American mahogany clock three feet tall that he bought for $400 at an antique shop two years ago.

"It's of museum quality—a genuine Aaron Willard with Paul Revere engraving," he said. "I value it at $3,500 today."

In today's changing market an amateur can get burned, Edwards warns.

"Take a good look at the movements," he advises. "Old clocks, being handmade, have movements rather on the crude side. New ones look new, they are probably stamped out. The plates are thin and are usually riveted instead of screwed."

Teamsters local, chief are sued

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Teamsters Union Local 100 and President Burlin Davis were sued Friday for $500,000 in U.S. District Court by the Overnite Transportation Co. of suburban Reading, Ohio.

The firm charged employees and officials were subjected to "violent, coercive and threatening conduct" during picketing April 29 through July 24 following the firing of an employee.

The employee had been a union organizer, the suit said.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
She's not her sister's keeper

DEAR ABBY: Talk about a situation which is incredibly unbelievable-but true-the one in my own family takes the prize.

I have a 36-year-old sister who is unmarried and pregnant. She is attractive and self-supporting, and believe it or not, she is a practicing physician!

The problem is, she refuses to marry the baby's father. She says she knows who he is but she doesn't want to get married. She could have had an abortion with no trouble at all, but she didn't want one. Have you ever heard anything so crazy in all your life?

No friend or relative can convince her that she is wrong. We were all so proud of her, and now she is about to disgrace the whole family.

She respects your advice, Abby. Can you help us convince this foolish, bull-headed woman that she should get married?

OLD-FASHIONED SISTER

DEAR SIS: Knowing nothing of the "baby's father" or your sister's reasons for refusing to marry him, I can't join your team. It's her life and her decision, and as a grown woman, it's her prerogative to decide what is best for HER. A person can only disgrace him (or her) self. You are not your sister's keeper.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you can help me with a problem in my personal life. I hope so, because I can't ask anyone else.

I have known this young lady for about two years. Well, in the last month I have taken her out a few times, but only on a friendly basis. Now she tells me that she is in love with me!

The problem: Very recently, she introduced me to one of her friends who is also her neighbor. As soon as I met this friend, something sparked between us. I would like to ask her out. Even if she turned me down, it might cause hard feelings between her and her friend, and I would be out in the cold.

I want to avoid this. Don't tell me to forget the girl because girls like her are few and far between.

THREE IS A CROWD

DEAR THREE: You are a free agent. You've made no commitment to your old friend, and she has no claim on you, so go ahead and ask the "few and far between girl" for a date. If the "spark" was indeed twoway ignition, she'll accept. You have more to gain than to lose.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow (nearly 60) who has been alone for two years. Before George died he asked me to promise him that, if anything happened to him, I would not marry a certain bachelor friend of ours. I was shocked at his request, but didn't know what else to say, so I said: "Of course, George, I promise," never dreaming anything would happen.

I have been going with this bachelor friend for nearly a year, as we were good friends. He says he loves me and wants me to marry him. I want to marry him, too, but I am haunted by that promise I made to George. Please advise me.

HAUNTED

DEAR HAUNTED: It is my feeling that since most deathbed promises are charged with emotion, they shouldn't be regarded as binding. But the decision is yours, so if you let that "promise" haunt you, face it, you'll find no happiness with this man.

Marriage vows exchanged by couple in local church

Miss Lisa Lynn Stritenberger and Rodger Lee (Roddy) West were united in marriage in the Church of Christ in Christian Union Aug. 2. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Stritenberger, 4259 St. Rt. 41, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. West, 1534 N. North St.

The Rev. Robert Kline performed the vows which solemnized the double-ring ceremony. The candelabra was adorned with yellow and orange daisies, orange and yellow gladioli, orange carnations and greenery.

While wedding guests were being seated by Carlton West, brother of the groom, William (Woody) Seyfang, brother-in-law of the bride, and Jim Hagler, all of Washington C.H., David Puckett, organist, provided several wedding selections. Miss Mary Jane Carter, vocalist, also sang "Time in a Bottle," and "Whither Thou Goest." After the marriage vows were exchanged, Miss Carter sang "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple were kneeling. David Puckett accompanied Miss Carter at the organ.

Members of the families of the bride and groom were seated in pews marked with orange and yellow satin bows and greenery.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, Miss Stritenberger wore a bouffant formal gown of nylon Chantilly-type lace, with acetate lining. The gown featured a scoop ruffled neckline, Renaissance sleeves and a redingote effect front revealing tiers of lace. The back of the gown flowed into a semi-cathedral length train. Her veil, borrowed from her sister, was elbow-length and featured a beaded headpiece. She wore heart opal earrings, a gift of the groom. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white miniature carnations, yellow sweetheart roses, baby's breath, and greenery. The center of the bouquet was used later as her going-away corsage.

Mrs. William Seyfang served as her sister's matron of honor. Mrs. Robert Seymour, Miss Deborah Justice, Miss Gayle Frederick, all of Washington C.H., served as bridesmaids. Miss Carla Wiget of Wilmington, cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore gowns of polyester chiffon with floral print of pale yellow, orange, and lime green, with pale yellow lining. The dresses featured a ruffled scoop neckline, puff sleeves and a ruffled hem. They also wore large wide-brimmed hats with pale yellow scarves to match their dresses.

Mrs. Seyfang, matron of honor, wore a gown like the other attendants featuring a lime green lining, with large wide-brimmed hat with matching scarf. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, yellow and orange daisies, baby's breath and greenery, with yellow and orange streamers. The other attendants carried long-stemmed yellow roses with baby's breath and greenery and yellow and orange streamers.

Candy and Christy Lynch, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Lynch, cousins of the groom, served as flower girls. They wore long formal dresses of yellow and green polyester trimmed in white lace.

Miss Claudia Self presided at the guest book.

Robert Seymour served as best man. James Huff, cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a formal length gown of mint green polyester with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and white miniature carnations. Mrs. West, mother of the groom, wore a formal length gown of pink and beige floral print with matching accessories, with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Hostesses for the reception held in the church Fellowship Hall were Mrs. Sam VanWinkle, Mrs. Norma Wiget, aunts of the bride, Miss Pam Stritenberger, cousin of the bride, and Miss Harriett Rudy.

A three-tier wedding cake was topped with a bride and groom figurine and a cross in the background. Yellow and orange daisies and greenery formed the decorations around the base of the cake.

Mrs. West wore a green and yellow print seersucker with white accessories when she and Mr. West left for a wedding trip to Watts Barr Resort, Spring City, Tenn.

The new bride, enrolled in cosmetology at Laurel Oaks Vocational School, is also employed at Steen's. Her husband, a Miami Trace High School graduate, is a salesman at Washington Lumber Company. They will reside on Panther Court.

The parents of the bridegroom were hosts at the rehearsal dinner held at Washington Inn.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Egon Hocke of Com-fort, Tex., have returned home after a month's visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell DeBolt, 1278 Dayton Ave.

Mrs. Dee Smith of Circleville, district manager for Olan Mills Inc., has visited here with Mrs. Lana Taylor of 718 E. Market St., following a two-week vacation in Florida.

It takes from 30 to 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of maple syrup.

Presbyterians represented at Retreat

Mrs. Harvey Heironimus, president of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church, and Miss Ruth Stecher attended the annual Retreat of the Scioto Valley Presbyterian Society of United Presbyterian Women at Geneva Hills, Lancaster, Aug. 20 and 21. In attendance were approximately 85 officers of the eight areas which comprise the Scioto Valley Society. Mrs. Gerald Wheat, Area IV chairman, was unable to attend.

The program focus "We Celebrate Our Diversity" was carried out in outdoor worship and song led by the Rev. Mrs. Tura Jean Hayes, in missions in Egypt by the Rev. John Lorimer, who was appointed in 1952 by the Board of Foreign Missions of the former United Presbyterian Church of North America and assigned to Egypt who is working in Cairo as professor of Church History on the faculty of Cairo Evangelical Seminary, with a secondary summer assignment in religious drama under the Council of Spiritual Affairs.

The program was also carried out by Mrs. Mary Lou Lorimer and by Miss Martha Roy, who teaches at the Christian Center for Audio-Visual Services in Cairo, Egypt, in celebrating Holy Communion.

There are 85 people supported by the Presbyterian church in the mission fields of the Middle East and thousands of dollars are contributed for educational supplies. In response to the question, "Are missionaries needed in this area?" Mr. Lorimer quoted an Egyptian minister: "We need to hear a foreign voice." The Village Literacy Program is directed by mission educators in which teams go into villages to carry on a three-step program of reading.

Madame Sadat, since the war has helped to bridge the educational development between Moslems and Christians by mobilizing 250 organizations to do volunteer work and by taking holy books into hospitals, the Koran to Moslems, and the Bible to Christians.

Bench's blast lifts Reds over Expos

MONTREAL (AP) — When Johnny Bench goes on a tear, he leaves the opposition in shreds.

The Cincinnati catcher took firm hold of Montreal Expos Friday night, clubbing his 26th home run of the season with two team-mates on base to key a six-run fifth inning as the Reds took a 10-7 National League baseball decision.

Football Report

Today was the day when coaches Maurice Pfeifer and Fred Zechman found out whether their teams are progressing on schedule or if they will have to go back to the drawing board.

Both Washington Senior High and Miami Trace played their first scrimmages of the season, as the Lions traveled to Columbus Mohawk and the Panthers visited Tipp City.

Friday, the Lions went through their morning practice in full gear and worked on their kicking game. The players dressed in shorts, helmets and pads in the afternoon session, which consisted of pregame warmups and tuning up the offense and defense.

"Everything appears to be ship shape," remarked Pfeifer. "Everyone is set to go, except for the offensive halfback and defensive cornerback Randy Sparkman. He twisted his ankle in a previous practice and it still has not responded to treatment."

Three seniors and a sophomore will be in the Lions' offensive backfield at the start of today's scrimmage. The seniors will be Jeff Brown at quarterback, Larry Dumford at fullback and Jim Vess at halfback. The lone under-classman will be sophomore Leroy Wilson.

Two spots are not definite on the Lions' defense. Doug McCune or Mark Stewart will be one of the defensive ends, while it will be Jim Vess or Greg

He also had a run-producing single in the first inning to raise his batting average in the last 43 games to .333 on 59-for-177. The four runs-batted-in Friday gave him 48 in the same period and 98 for the season to tie him for the league lead with Mike Schmidt of Philadelphia Phillies.

The homer came on a high slider from Expos starter and loser Tom Walker, now 2-4, and gave the Reds a lead they never relinquished.

Joe Morgan, batting .296, turned an apparent single in the first inning into his 29th double of the year by daring Ken Singleton to beat him with the throw from right field. Morgan scored from second on Bench's single.

Such offense was enough Friday to get past the 14-hit Expos attack, but Bench knows it just may not be enough over the season.

"I didn't feel safe at all with that three-run lead," he said.

Marti in one of the halfback slots.

The remainder of the Lions' defense will be Time O'Flynn, end; Richard Haithecock, left tackle; John Anders, right tackle; David Hollar, left guard; Brian Haines, right guard; Larry Dumford, linebacker; Randy Gardner, halfback; Gilbert Sparkman, cornerback; and Dewey Foster, cornerback.

It was a review day, both offensively and defensively, in the Panthers' camp. Miami Trace also went out in full gear in the morning and dressed in shorts for the afternoon drills.

Two players will miss today's scrimmage game. Backup tight end John Schlichter has a sprained ankle and safety Jim Glass still has a knee injury.

On the defense, Miami Trace will have Jay Mossbarger, end, Bill Warnock, end; Tom Riley, tackle; Ron Warnock, tackle; Don Dunton, inside linebacker; Greg Cobb, inside linebacker; Kent Smith, outside linebacker; Joe Black, outside linebacker; Phil Skinner, safety; Tom Pfaff, cornerback; and Jeff Smithson, cornerback.

Both teams will resume with their regular practice schedule on Monday. The Blue Lions' Picture Day is scheduled for Monday at 3 p.m.

"I'll tell you in about three weeks if we can catch the Dodgers. We're coming on, but it's up to them. People have got to beat them and we've got to beat them when we play them."

The St. Louis Cardinals gave the Reds an assist Friday, edging the Dodgers 2-1 and putting Cincinnati only 2½ games out of first place.

Clay Carroll, the third Reds pitcher, gained his 10th win in 13 decisions and became the fourth Cincinnati pitcher to reach double figures in the victory column.

Jack Billingham had failed in his attempt to become the NL's first 16-game winner, giving up eight hits in four official innings, including Willie Davis' eighth homer of the season—a solo shot in the third.

Barry Foote smacked a three-run homer off Tom Hall in the sixth. It brought Carroll into the game and the Expos nicked him for only one run the rest of the way on a single by Foote in the seventh.

The Reds today attempt to even the

Pretty Road wins River Downs race

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Toil No More, Hy Carol and Dogone Frosty, all former stakes winners, are top weighted at 124 pounds today in the featured $15,000-added "Myrtlewood Handicap" for Ohio bred fillies.

Eight 3-and 4-year-olds are entered in the six-furlong race at River Downs.

Pretty Road took the feature Friday by a nose in 1:46 for a mile and 70 yards and paid $17.40, $8 and $5.80. Dandy's Pick was a close second, $10 and $7.40 and Waterdell, third, $5.80.

season series against Montreal at 4-4, sending Don Gullett, 14-8, against the Expos' Steve Rogers, 12-1. Cincinnati's Clay Kirby, 8-7, faces Dennis Blair, 7-5, Sunday.

The Atlanta Braves ran their latest winning streak to five games with a sweep against the New York Mets Friday night, winning the 10-inning opener, 4-3 and then taking the nightcap 6-0. The sweep gave the Braves 12 victories in the last 14 games.

The Braves trailed in the first game against the Mets until the ninth inning when Dave Johnson's single, an error by George Theodore, an infield out and pinch hitter Paul Casanova's sacrifice fly tied the score.

Then in the 10th, Marty Perez singled, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Mike Lum's two-out single.

The nightcap was veteran right-hander Lew Krausse's show. Krausse permitted just one hit in the six innings he worked and slugged a two-run

By The Associated Press

Four years ago, Luis Tiant's career seemed at an end. After seven years in the majors, he had been traded away by the Cleveland Indians, then released outright by the Minnesota Twins.

But at the recommendation of Darrell Johnson, manager of the Boston Red Sox farm club at Richmond, he was signed by that International League club, then given one last shot in the majors.

Now Johnson is manager of the Red Sox, and Tiant is returning the favor. Friday night he became baseball's first 20-game winner by hurling a sparkling, six-hit, 3-0 shutout over the Oakland A's.

The Red Sox jumped in front when leadoff man Tommy Harper drilled Vida Blue's third pitch of the game high into the left-field screen for his fifth homer. Boston added two more runs against Blue, 14-12, in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees blasted California 10-4, Baltimore defeated Minnesota 4-1, Texas beat Detroit 5-2, the Chicago White Sox edged Cleveland 2-1 and Kansas City beat Milwaukee 8-4 in the opener of their two-night doubleheader but dropped the nightcap 1-0 in 13 innings.

Yankees 10, Angels 4

Roy White, a late addition to the starting lineup because left fielder Lou Piniella came down with a sore throat, belted a two-run homer, a triple and two singles, drove in four runs and scored twice to lead the Yankee attack.

Rangers 5, Tigers 2

Steve Hargan fired a four-hitter and rode a four-run Texas outburst in the third inning to victory over the Tigers.

Joe Lovitto started the third with a walk and scored on a triple by Jim Sundberg. Dave Nelson doubled in a run. Cesar Tovar singled. Jeff Burroughs hit a sacrifice fly and Mike Hargrove singled in the other run.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthdate comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
FOR SUNDAY AUGUST 25

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)
Care needed in both budgetary and domestic matters now. Also, avoid restlessness and changeability. A day for straight-line thinking and action.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)
Don't cross others without ample reason. It may turn out best if you wait a bit before making decisions, give time for added factors to appear.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)
Be master of your thinking rather than let it set you off on tangents which get you nowhere. Success can come through certain new alliances.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)
As with many others now, tendencies toward restlessness and unrelenting prevail. Avoid! Many errors and misguided moves can thus be prevented.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Be solicitous of fellowmen but not to the point of being "taken in." There are some who would prey on anyone who will listen.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Accent is on your love life. If single, the time has come to make your mind up about a current romance.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Circumvent trouble, even if you have to take the long way around. Some persons could be irritating now. Avoid them.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Don't make decisions under stress and don't write anything you may later regret. Maintain your equanimity even if certain situations annoy you.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Stellar influences indicate some new interests. Make sure you are ready for them — but without slighting current obligations. Don't let "moods" cause misunderstandings.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Mixed influences. Question and investigate where there is margin for error. Do not accept suggestions blindly. And do not expect more than is reasonable.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A new light thrown upon a certain situation should prime you for fine advantages in the offing. Rouse yourself to work for attainment which will require more than usual vigor.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

You have considerable freedom of movement now. Best used, it can help to further either personal or creative objectives.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a lively outlook on life; are keen-minded, remarkably intuitive, perceptive and practical. You are more meticulous about handling details than those born under most Signs, and your integrity is outstanding. You have a great love of knowledge and never stop trying to accumulate more than you have. If you can curb a tendency to be overexacting with those under your supervision, you would make an excellent teacher, but many other fields are suited to your wealth of talents notably: science, literature, music, the stage, medicine and the law.

MONDAY, AUGUST 26

Look for trends early: Things may not be quite as you had anticipated. Some situations are changing obviously, others subtly. Be careful to avoid errors.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)
Stellar influences stimulate optimism and foresight. An excellent day for making plans — especially those of a long-range nature.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)
Even small opportunities can lead to worthwhile advancement, so don't bypass ANY avenue to further progress.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)
Contribute to mutual understanding between differing parties. Pursue a sound course rather than an expedient one. Show your competence in complex situations.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Avoid any tendency toward vagueness. Set sights calculatingly on your target, and aim for it unerringly. Solar influences helpful.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
A clever beginning will cover half your distance. Follow up pending projects with intensified steps and, all along the way, pinpoint your next moves.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Care needed in travel, finances and job matters. There's a tendency toward carelessness which could lead to needless errors.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Demonstrate your abilities in a tactful manner, bearing in mind that some may not see eye to eye with you. In the long run, however, they WILL come around to your point of view.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Present influences indicate some obstacles — not insurmountable, but annoying unless you retain your sense of humor — AND patience.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Anchor to a well-organized program. Do not expose yourself to needless precarious action, or make foolish compromises, to be later regretted.

Army admits many soldiers mismatched with their jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army acknowledges that about 46,000 soldiers are serving in wrong assignments at a time when U.S. armed strength is restricted to its smallest total in 24 years.

In effect, these men have been put into jobs for which they have not been specially trained and their own skills could go to waste.

"This situation may breed poor job satisfaction which results in poor performance from the soldier," said an internal Army publication read largely by enlisted men.

Soldiers caught in this bind could lose out in promotions, skill pay, selection for schooling and even qualification for re-enlistment, the publication said.

Asked about the extent of such mismatched assignments, the Army said about 46,000 men are in this fix, roughly 9 per cent of all its enlisted men.

The Army said it is working to correct the problem and that the "mismatch trend is improving."

Two years ago, there were 77,700 improperly assigned soldiers, or more than 15 per cent of enlisted strength, it said.

Officials said mismatch often results from an oversupply or undersupply of specific skills and that much of the difficulty is centered at the unit level where commanders must fill slots with whatever men they have.

The Army also acknowledged that "poor utilization policy in units" has contributed to the problem.

The Army now stands at about 783,000 men after five years of steady cutbacks from a Vietnam war peak of about twice that strength.

In trying to stave off further cuts, Army leaders have sought to convince Congress that the service is doing the utmost with its allotted manpower.

"When the Army is not actually fighting, the management of human resources is our single most important function," Secretary of the Army Howard H. Callaway told a Senate Armed Services subcommittee last week.

"... To get the most out of every dollar, it is essential that we get the most out of every person."

But nowhere in Callaway's formal statement to the subcommittee was there any mention of the still unsolved problem of thousands of men whose military skills and assignments do not match.

Not much planetary help here, so day is practically your own to mold. Try to conclude long-term agreements if any are pending. Stars are generous in that respect.

YOU BORN TODAY are intellectually inclined, have the mind of a scholar, coupled with intense idealism. Your good judgment and practicality help you to attain lofty goals in life. You are a deep thinker and unusually close-mouthed. In fact, it has been said that Virgoans can keep secrets better than anyone else in the world, which is why they make outstanding confidential secretaries and, on a higher level, diplomats. You are extremely versatile, however, and many other fields are open to you, notably: writing, painting, music and education. You also like science, technology and mathematics; could succeed in any of these areas because you are so meticulous in research and the handling of details.

Opening lead — four of hearts.

It stands to reason that you shouldn't allow your fortunes to depend on a guess when there is a way of avoiding the guess. The aim should be to stay in command at all times, and thus be the master of your fate.

Take this case where West leads a heart to East's king. It is only the first trick, but the outcome rests largely on South's play at this point.

If he plays the right card he is sure to make the contract, as the cards lie. But if he plays the wrong card he must guess right later on to get home safely.

Let's see what happens if South takes the king with the ace. He can cash four diamonds, but then finds himself in a situation where he must guess whether to play a spade or a club.

If he guesses wrong by leading a spade, East takes the ace and returns a heart. West's hearts become established and, because West has the ace of clubs as an entry, declarer finishes down one. Of course, if South guesses right by leading clubs instead of spades, he makes the contract, but the fact remains that at trick one he placed his fate in the lap of the gods.

Now let's see what happens if South ducks the king of hearts, as he should. East returns a heart, taken with the queen.

South no longer has to guess whether to lead spades or clubs first. He is on safe ground either way. Let's suppose he tackles spades first. East takes the ace but has no heart to return — thanks to the hold-up at trick one — and South makes four notrump.

The same result accrues if South tackles clubs first. West can take the ace and establish his suit, but he is then helpless as his heart tricks slowly but surely wither on the vine.

Hopeful News in Medicine:

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Research: Hope for the Future

Readers of this "Hopeful News in Medicine" column often write and ask why so many of these exciting scientific discoveries seem to be, from a practical point of view, in the never-never land of the future.

The purpose of this reporting is to show the hope that lies in the ongoing research in hospitals and laboratories all over the world.

It is difficult for the public to imagine that so many dedicated scientists are working on the tiniest fragments of the vast jigsaw puzzle that will mean better health in so many aspects of medicine and surgery.

In a random edition of the New England Journal of Medicine, I found reports on: G-6-PB deficiency in sickle cell disease.

Autoimmune purpura in Hodgkin's disease.

Alcoholic cirrhosis in baboons.

HL-A antigens and psoriasis.

Immunologic mysteries of multiple sclerosis.

These are but a few of the research endeavors that are constantly being reported in prestigious journals in every country in the world.

Do these seemingly far-fetched research endeavors ever come to fruition and are they applied practically in modern medicine?

Most of these "dreams" do come true.

Consider the vaccine that has almost halted poliomyelitis, drugs to control active tuberculosis, chemicals to enhance the treatment of some forms of mental illness, antibiotics for the treatment of virulent infections, drugs taken by mouth to substitute for insulin injections in some cases of diabetes, hormones for the relief of the symptoms of menopause, cryosurgery of the brain to eradicate symptoms of Parkinson's disease, cortisone and ACTH, life-sustaining hormones, new chemicals used in anesthesia to improve the overall safety record, the genetic control of birth defects, transplantation surgery for disorders of the heart, blood vessels and other organs of the body.

All were once a "gleam in the eye" of a scientist in a laboratory somewhere.

It takes time, it takes testing, it takes talent, it takes uninterrupted funds, to bring to practical realization the ideas that occupy the attention of diligent, dedicated scientists.

Policeman murdered near Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An auxiliary Dayton police officer was shot and killed Friday as he and another officer tried to apprehend a robbery suspect, police said.

Dead is Leo L. "Doug" Casto, 25. He was killed just three days before he was to become a full-time officer on the Wayne Township police force, Dayton officers said.

He and another patrolman, George McLaughlin, were taking part in the city-wide search for a suspect in a July 14 robbery, Dayton police said.

Officials said the two were in plainclothes when they attempted to identify themselves to the suspect, Larry E. Rhoads. Rhoads was hiding behind bushes in a residential area and apparently fired at the officers who then returned fire, authorities said.

McLaughlin was treated and released with minor wounds. Rhoads, 22, of Dayton, is in satisfactory condition at a local hospital with gunshot wounds, officials there said.

It later was learned by Dayton police that Rhoads was an escapee from a Virginia prison where he was serving a five year term for attempted robbery.

Officials at St. Brides, a medium security prison in Chesapeake, Va., said Rhoads' June 21 escape was his second since he was sent there in 1973.

They said he and another prisoner, Lannie Swift, 23, also of Dayton, escaped from a road camp by sawing through a prison shower with a hack saw blade.

Swift is still at large.

Slate highway rebuilding plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A $3.5 million improvement project on U.S. 23 from north Columbus to Delaware will begin on Sept. 3, the Ohio Department of Transportation has announced.

The department said the 11.6-mile stretch will be resurfaced, with parts widened to five lanes and left turn lanes installed.

Why should you join the Payroll Savings Plan now? Maybe you'll find out later.

The future can be too late for saving. So if you want security, you'd better start today.

The Payroll Savings Plan makes it easy. Because an amount you choose is automatically set aside from each paycheck to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. That way, your savings build year after year.

So start today. Because tomorrow, today will be yesterday.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years. (U.S. 100 the first year.) Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen or destroyed. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Mini-bike theft solved

Guns stolen in burglary at sporting goods store

Both the Washington C.H. police officers and Fayette County Sheriff's deputies began the weekend with major burglary cases. Five juveniles have been arrested in connection with a burglary at the C and W Motor Sales, 1224 N. North St., Thursday night, and some 30 guns are loose in the area from a burglary at the Lakewood Sportsman Center, CCC Highway W.

At approximately 1 a.m. Saturday, Sheriff's Deputy Robert A. Russell discovered that a window in the front wall of the Lakewood Sportsman shop had been broken out.

Owner Phil French was notified and a check of the premises revealed that some 30 handguns and rifles had been taken. A complete list of the missing weapons has not yet been compiled, but a preliminary check indicated 10 rifles are included in the total.

Since it was impossible to secure the building through the night, French unrolled one of his sleeping bags and slept in the building. Sheriff's deputies are investigating, but as yet have no definite leads.

CITY POLICE were more fortunate when they attempted to track those responsible for the theft of five mini-bikes from C and W Motor Sales. The theft was reported Friday morning, and five suspects were apprehended that afternoon.

Three of the five juveniles charged in the burglary were seen riding the stolen bikes Friday afternoon. Investigation by Police Specialist Larry Walker led to the charges against the other two youths.

Four area boys, 13, 14, 15 and 16 years of age, have been charged with breaking and entering as well as grand larceny. A fifth boy, 14, has been charged with possessing stolen property.

The youths have been released to their parents pending hearings in Juvenile Court.

Other incidents reported to the police included the theft of a bicycle from the Hall residence, 708 Oak St.; vandalism in an apartment at 326 Cherry Street; minor injury to Thelma Taylor, 740 Gregg St., when she fainted on her back porch; minor injury to Mrs. Jake Floyd, 317 Bereman St., when she fell on the sidewalk along S. Fayette Street; and an overdose of librium taken by a Washington C.H. woman during a domestic argument.

Sheriff's deputies reported the recovery of a stolen van, valued at $1,500, which was abandoned on the parking lot of Stop 35, at U.S. 35 and I-71. The van had been stolen from a Dayton resident.

Passage to the south of a cold front that brought some rains to Ohio now will bring a bit cooler weather to the state for a couple of days. The National Weather Service says readings in the 70s will be common with exception of the extreme south where readings in the low to mid 80s should prevail.

Some showers were set off Friday and Friday night by the cold front. The highest official rainfall total was 0.23 inches at Dayton with most falling between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Friday. Between 2 p.m. Friday and 2 a.m. Saturday the greatest precipitation was at Youngstown. Other stations had either traces of rain or none at all.

Temperatures at 6 a.m. Saturday were in the 60s and as low as 60 degrees at both Dayton and Findlay.

Mostly fair Monday and Tuesday and a chance of showers Wednesday. Daily high temperatures in the low to mid 80s. Lows at night in the upper 50s and lower 60s.

Inflation council officially revived

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford officially revives the Cost of Living Council today to monitor wages and prices, but remains unalterably opposed to controls for fighting inflation.

The President arranged a late morning session in the Cabinet Room to sign the Council on Wage and Price Stability Act which won congressional passage within two weeks of Ford's request.

The new task force is to expose abuses in wages and prices. But unlike the original council established in 1971 by former President Nixon, it cannot impose ceilings.

The council will gather information on causes of inflation, and will "jawbone" — or try to persuade — unions and businesses to take no action that would fuel spiraling costs.

The bill sets up a staff of about 25 at a cost of $1 million. The council will include Roy L. Ash, director of the Office of Management and Budget, and Kenneth Rush, presidential economic counselor.

Representatives of 11 million elderly Americans told Ford in a face-to-face meeting in the White House on Friday that inflation is the "No. 1 terror for older people."

Spreading Ford's warning that inflation is Public Enemy No. 1, Ash told a Wall Street luncheon in New York the new administration would "cool the fevers of inflation even if it generates more unemployment than we'd like."

On a day that the stock market tumbled to a four-year low, Ash emphasized Ford's determination to avoid wage-price controls or even stand-by authority for their reintroduction.

Presidential press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst also repeated that Ford is "unalterably opposed" to controls.

Executive Director Jack Ossosky, 49, of the National Council on Aging quoted Ford as saying that he is

Haldeman takes peek at papers

WASHINGTON (AP) — H.R. Haldeman, a defendant in the upcoming Watergate cover-up trial, was the first to take advantage of a reinstated White House policy of allowing former presidential aides to look at their old files.

John D. Ehrlichman and Gordon Strachan, co-defendants with Haldeman, are expected to examine their files soon to prepare their defenses.

Haldeman went to the basement vaults just hours after White House officials restored access to the files Friday.

Former President Richard M. Nixon had allowed his former aides to inspect the files but this permission was suspended during the last days of his administration.

Andrew C. Hall, Ehrlichman's lawyer, had complained to the U.S. Court of Appeals that his client was not able to look at his papers. A White House spokesman said at the time that President Ford's counsel, Philip Buchen, was reviewing the matter.

White House Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst said Friday that Buchen had consulted with Ford before notifying lawyers that their defendant-clients could again see their papers. terHorst also said Nixon had agreed to the reopening of the files.

Ehrlichman was Nixon's domestic affairs adviser. Haldeman was chief of staff and Strachan was an assistant to Haldeman.

The former assistants are not allowed to write notes or photocopy any documents or to have their lawyers inspect the files. A Secret Service agent's presence is required under the inspection rules.

Ehrlichman, Haldeman and Strachan are among six persons charged with conspiracy in the Watergate cover-up and scheduled to stand trial Sept. 30.

Lima welfare chief slain

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The director of the Allen County welfare office was killed and a caseworker critically wounded Friday in what police said was an argument of over $10 in food stamps.

Dead is acting director Don Hayes, 56, of Lima. Listed in critical condition at a Lima hospital is Roy Henry, 59, of Bluffton, Ohio, the caseworker.

Lima police said they were holding David M. Winburn, 32, of Lima, in connection with the shootings.

Police said the shootings in the county welfare office resulted from an argument over $10 worth of food stamps, but would not release details.

Officers said Winburn was arrested on a highway five miles east of Lima as he was running on foot away from the city. Police Lt. Russell Snyder said he was carrying a revolver.

reviewing problems of the nation's aged.

He said Ford pledged to include a representative of the elderly at the economic summit conference slated for late next month.

Mrs. Mary Mullen, 74, of Laguna Beach, Calif., president of the National Association of Retired Teachers, said Ford "seemed sincere in making every effort to try to solve some of the problems" of senior citizens, and promised to keep his door open to them.

Lottery winners report to agency

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Four more $15,000 winners in Ohio's first lottery drawing reported to lottery officials Friday, with at least as many more believed still holding unvalidated winning tickets.

The lottery commission estimates that 12 tickets were sold that would entitle the holder to an automatic $15,000 and a chance to win from $30,000 to $300,000 in the Buckeye 300 drawing in Columbus next Thursday.

One of the winners who reported Friday, John H. Geraghty, 56, of Richmond Heights, said his prize money probably will go to pay bills.

"My wife already said she's paying off some of the bills," the father of three said. "It helps a lot."

Geraghty works for Eaton Corp. Another winner, a 62-year-old Avon Lake woman, told lottery officials she wanted no publicity and already had arranged for her brother to represent her at the drawing in Columbus.

In Toledo, Morris J. Brown, 50, also validated a winning $15,000 ticket, saying he would save for retirement. The fourth to report Friday was Ronald S. Helms of Ashtabula.

The other known winners were Robert W. Heacock, 47, Lakewood; Carlotta Calhoun, 31, East Cleveland; James W. Wright, Springfield, and William Culver, 55, Columbus.

The lottery computer says other winning tickets were sold in Cleveland, Glouster in Athens County, Portsmouth in Scioto County and in Akron.

The winning Buckeye 300 tickets were among more than 6 million tickets bought in the lottery's first week of sales, officials said.

Receipts from the first round of sales totaled $2,870,084.91, reported Gertrude W. Donahey, state treasurer.

John Kirkland, the commission's executive director, said he was pleased with the sales performance of the state's seven districts, especially the smaller regions.

"Canton was a pleasant surprise because the district sold more than a million tickets," Kirkland said. "And it's next to the smallest district. That's an impressive figure."

The most tickets probably were sold in the Cleveland area, Kirkland said, but he added that Marietta, the smallest district, did as well percentage-wise.

Kirkland said lottery officials were considering improvements to the system, including vending machine ticket sales, a system to reserve favorite numbers week to week and the possibility of providing consultants to aid major winners with problems big money can bring.

Ohio bankruptcy cases increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The bankruptcy referee for U.S. District Court in Columbus says higher taxes, tight money and inflation apparently are responsible for a surge in bankruptcy petition filings.

Duane Kelleher, the referee, said bankruptcies have increased by about 20 a month, with an average of 220 per month this year compared to an average of 199 per month last year.
